Re: S.B. 88

Dear Representatives Riley, Hicks, and Ingle:

The Professional Certification Coalition (PCC)¹ writes to share our views regarding S.B. 88, which would establish an alternative pathway to licensure for unlicensed, out-of-state individuals. The PCC supports recent changes made to the bill so that only a temporary license would be issued based on work experience. However, the PCC urges an additional amendment for occupations that require private certification for licensure.

The PCC supports reducing unnecessary barriers for licensed professionals who move to a new state. However, as noted in the attached Statement of Principles, not all state-specific requirements are unwarranted: substantive state-specific licensing requirements protect the public from unqualified or unethical practitioners and uphold the integrity of licensed professions as a whole.

For certain occupations, Missouri requires applicants to earn a private professional certification to demonstrate that they have achieved the core knowledge, skills, and competencies for that occupation. Even as amended, S.B. 88 would permit unqualified individuals to apply for a temporary license and hold themselves out as qualified, despite not having demonstrated the skills and knowledge required to earn the requisite private certification. This puts Missouri residents at risk. A history of employment alone does not prove the competency and skill levels expected of licensed professionals in Missouri. We therefore urge that S.B. 88 be further amended to require that applicants for a temporary license hold the private certification that Missouri licensing laws otherwise require for that occupation.

Specifically, the PCC urges the legislature to add a new subsection (5) to Section 324.004(5), clarifying that the bill's alternative pathways to licensure do not apply with respect to: “Any occupation for which the licensing requirements in this state include that the applicant holds a private certification as a condition of licensure, if the applicant does not currently hold that private certification. Where a licensing law specifies a private certification or other substantive qualifications as alternative eligibility standards for a license, an out-of-state applicant must either hold that current and valid private certification or demonstrate qualifications at least equivalent to the alternative eligibility standards required of Missouri residents.”

This bill directly affects protections for the public and PCC members that confer credentials to professionals in occupations in which certification is a condition of licensure. If, due to variations in licensing laws, S.B. 88 allows unqualified or unfit individuals to practice, the public's trust in certified professionals and their regulated professions will be irreparably damaged, especially for occupations in which the public associates an individual's status as a certified professional with licensure.

Thank you for your attention to these issues and consideration of the PCC's views. Please feel free to contact us using our contact information below if you would like to discuss this further.

Sincerely,
